Special cards

At the beginning of the game, players may agree to use the special cards, which will make it more challenging for players on the verge of victory. Shuffle the cards and place them face down nearby.

If a player has only 1 or 2 stones left when his or her turn comes, he or she must draw a card, reveal it and comply to the card's constraints for the duration of his or her turn.

You can only use your left hand to play.

You can't use your thumbs to play.

You must play two stones one after the other.

You must play while blinding one of your eyes.

You must lay your stone on the edge.

You can't touch the cord during your turn.

You must play your stone by holding it in your palm and not touching it with your fingers.

You must play your stone by holding it with your little fingers only.

You must play your stone by holding it with your thumbs only.

You can only use your right hand to play.
